Izzie Morris, Carole Miles and Sheila Milnes provided fun and nonsense with their poems, songs and sketches and the audience enjoyed participating in the mini-panto and in the Community Singing. Tony Bostock set up the community sound system and our excellent pianist was David Wall. Angela Martin helped Ira Whiteley keep the continuity on track and 4 year old Edgar Crabtree helped with the lighting!

During the interval we were served with a delicious hot-pot generously donated by Martin and Julie Saxon. Many thanks to them! Also thanks to Pam and Sheila of the Community Association who decorated tables so beautifully and to Marlaine and Dennis Whitham, who (ably helped by Pam and Sheila) ran the bar.

Pat and Mike closed the show with rousing contributions of Rule Britannia and Oh Holy Night and let's not forget Poppy the dog who barked at appropriate moments and showed perfect timing.

Thanks go to John Whiteley - the Club Secretary - whose idea this was. Will there be another show next year? Perhaps - if you roll up and offer your expertise, enthusiasm and talent - but next time it will not be so near Christmas!

Remembrance Day Cushions

Knit 'n Natter Group

The Knit 'n Natter Group meet on Fridays at 1pm. They knit together for charities. Last year they offered to make cushions for the hard benches in Shevington Memorial Park for use on Remembrance Day, as the majority of people attending are elderly and they require to sit for the service.

Forest Fold Bowling Green re-opens for the season on 1 April. Individual membership costs £20 per year. 2018 application forms are available from Shevington Library and on the website.

Celebrating 50 Years of Shevington Youth Club

A Show full of Local Talent from across Shevington Parish

On 16th December 2017 people from across our community celebrated the 50th Anniversary of the opening of the Youth Club building. 80 people enjoyed an evening of singing, dancing and fun from some very talented young people...and some rather older. Pat Fisher - our multi-talented local singing star - opened the show with a rousing rendering of Super Trooper. Pat, appropriately, was present at the opening event 50 years ago to the day.

Talented young singers Beth, April and Georgia gave us delightful and powerful solo renderings of modern songs and carols. Grace and Violet from the SK School of Dance put together a delightful dance choreographed by themselves to fit on the rather small stage and at very short notice!

We enjoyed classic tenor songs from David Crooke, and Sue Hales sang delightfully in French. Guitarist Jim Lewis with his wife Chris entertained us with folk songs. Alan Gregory sang from his opera "Beyond Wigan Pier" based on George Orwell's book.

The Melodrama showed off Shevington's acting talent. Gail Charnock played the innocent young girl rescued from an evil landlord by the irresistible, handsome young Daniel Crabtree! Ken Charnock had perfected the part of the evil landlord! but was unfortunately in hospital on the night. The show went on even if Ken's stand-in forgot some lines and made up the rest! Ken is now fully recovered!
